PORTER

Civic — Public Sans + Source Serif 4 ← chosen

Fix the flooding. Finally. Public Sans was designed for government websites: plain, trustworthy, very legible. Source Serif adds warmth for longer reading on mailers and the website.

PORTER

Hyperlegible — Atkinson Hyperlegible

Fix the flooding. Finally. Designed by the Braille Institute for readers with low vision. The most accessible choice; a good default if your district skews older.

PORTER

Condensed — Barlow Condensed + Public Sans

Fix the flooding. Finally. A condensed headline face fits long names on a yard sign at a bigger size. Public Sans keeps body text plain.
